The 17 UN Global Goals We need you!

Our earth is unique. All of us, humans, plants and animals need it. And because it is so valuable, we must protect it together and treat it well. But the reality is, that we treat it badly, and that has to change. In order to shape the future on our planet better, many countries of the 193 member states of the UN sat down together in 2015 and agreed on 17 climate goals.
